- 1 AN ACT Relating to the administrative powers of port districts;
- 2 adding a new chapter to Title 53 RCW; and creating a new section.
- 3 BE IT ENACTED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF WASHINGTON:

The legislature finds that the shipping 4 NEW SECTION. Sec. 1. 5 and port industries must contend with an increasingly competitive 6 global market. Historically, port districts competed against other 7 local port districts. Today, port districts compete on a global scale, and the current landscape is rapidly changing with the 8 expansion of facilities in Canada and the impending widening of the 9 10 Panama Canal. The ports of Seattle and Tacoma are the third largest 11 container trade centers in the United States, but they are in a race to hold onto this position. The legislature finds that Washington's 12 13 ports need to be able to work cooperatively to protect the maritime 14 base of the state.

15 legislature intends to enable certain port districts 16 create port public development authorities for the management 17 maritime activities and to act cooperatively under 39.34 18 interlocal cooperation act, chapter RCW. The legislature 19 intends for the port districts to be able to partner as a single management team and use financial resources strategically, while 20 21 remaining separate entities and complying with federal regulations.
